

Faster, Better, More Economical Data Extraction and Loading

Key Features:

Land and stage your data with no costly development.

Built-in best practice design methods for all components of data migration.

Immediate data availability in all target environments.

Ideal for companies utilizing Massive Parallel Processing (MPP) environments.

A2B Data™ was designed to save time and resources and gain immediate analytic ROI on your data. It makes sense that by getting data where it needs to be in minutes or hours instead of weeks or months, the value of your data can be realized far more quickly.

“Using A2B Data, we are currently processing updates to over 1,700 tables across our development, QA, and production environments. A2B Data quickly and accurately processes data in our operational systems to update our data warehouses daily. We also quickly converted hundreds of processes from an expensive ETL tool to A2B Data in a matter of minutes. For data extraction and acquisition, A2B Data is our first choice”.
